

August 9, 2011

Notice concerning Extraordinary Loss Posted in the First Quarter of FY 2011 Earnings Results

As to the earnings results for the first quarter of FY2011, or the fiscal year ending March 31, 2012, released today, The Tokyo Electric Power Company Incorporated (TEPCO, TSE: 9501) hereby makes a notice concerning extraordinary loss posted on the results. The Details are as follows.

1. Extraordinary loss from natural disaster

TEPCO recognized expenses and losses for restoring damaged facilities by the Tohoku-Chihou-Taiheiyu-Oki Earthquake in the quarter of 105,500 million yen and 105,300 million yen on consolidated and non-consolidated basis, respectively.

2. Expenses for nuclear damage compensation

Based on the "Interim Guidelines for Judgment on the Scope of Nuclear Damage" resolved by Government's Nuclear Damages Indemnification Adjustment Committee, TEPCO estimated foreseeable portions of the nuclear damage compensation caused by a series of accidents at our Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power Station and recognized it in the quarter as expenses for nuclear damage compensation of 397.7 billion yen.

【Reference】 Breakdown of the Extraordinary Loss (non-consolidated)

1. Extraordinary loss from natural disaster

(Unit: million yen)

Items	First Quarter of FY2011 (Additionally recognized in this FY)	FY2010 (Already recognized)	(Reference) Cumulative amount
Expenses and losses for Fukushima Daiichi Units 1 through 4	69,300	633,300	702,700
Other expenses and losses	35,900	384,200	420,100
Total	105,300	1,017,500	1,122,800

Note: Recognized foreseeable portions in each item at this moment.

2. Expenses for nuclear damage compensation

(Unit: million yen)

Items	First Quarter of FY2011
Compensation for mental blow	88,200
Other compensation (incl. opportunity loss of workers and businesses)	309,400
Total	397,700

Note: Recognized foreseeable portions in each item at this moment.