

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, January 25, 2023

Weather: Snowy

Water temperature: 17.8°C

We have started analysis of tritium in bodily fluids of abalones. We start by freeze-drying the sample abalones collected last November. Using our experience, we pay attention to tightly seal a rubber plug to a glass tube. As a result, it is successfully freeze-dried!

