

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9AM, March 22, 2023

Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.2°C

By the side of the rearing test facility, there is an old cherry tree whose flower buds are swelling by the warmth in these few days and likely to bloom in this weekend. From this point onward, about 380 cherry trees within the power plant premises, which are not seen from the test facility, would bloom one after another. Flounders and abalones also look like feeling the coming of spring in some vague manner.
