

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, April 4, 2023

Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.6°C

The leftover of feed and feces that accumulate at the bottom of the abalone tanks are cleaned everyday, but microscopic feed debris drifting in the water gradually deposit at the top of the shelter to form a slimy dirt. Though this is not toxic for abalones, we decided to clean it because it is a cause of the deterioration of water quality.

