

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, April 7, 2023

Weather: Cloudy

Water temperature: 17.8°C

<Flounder diary>

Abalone: This must be the last time I can see cherry blossoms this year. Shower of cherry blossoms outside!

Flounder: A caretaker put in some fallen blossoms.

Abalone: I am in a state of “unquiet mind” right now.

Flounder: “If there were not cherry trees in this world, our hearts would be calm in spring.”

The cherry blossoms were taken out of the tanks right after this.

<Next report will be on April 10, 2023.>
