

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, May 15, 2023

Weather: Cloudy

Water temperature: 18.4°C

When Dr. Kato of Kinki University came and checked the rearing status of abalones last week, he advised us to reduce the size of the abalone tank's feeding board (top board of the abalone shelter) by cutting it into two parts to prevent the abalones from going out of the water during cleaning, enabling to reduce their stress. It was a real eye opener for us.

