

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, July 25, 2023

Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.1°C

Continuing from yesterday, here are some underwater photos taken with the new camera. Today we photographed abalone and were able to clearly capture the coloration of the abalone's antennae, legs, shell, and even the different colors of the fin (part of the leg). In the future, we will try to take close-ups of the body parts of flounder and abalone.

