Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.1°C

This is a close-up photo of a flounder's face. These eyes and razor sharp teeth don't allow prey to escape! You can feel the power of this fish just by looking at it. As mentioned in yesterday's log, flounder change their body color based on information obtained from their eyes. So a flounder with a body color different from other fish may indicate that it has eye damage.
