- The post-special-measure unit price for April-June, July-September, and October-December 2009 each will be a quarter of the amount reduced from the post-special-measure unit price for January-March 2009 (figures rounded off to two decimal places).
- The post-special-measure unit price for January-March 2010 will be calculated by subtracting the total of the post-special-measure unit prices for April-June, July-September, and October-December 2009 from the reduction from the post-special-measure unit price for January-March 2009.

[Change in monthly charges expected in the Jan.-Mar. 2009 period for an average household*]

Under the current fuel cost adjustment system, monthly charges after fuel cost adjustment will increase 820 yen from the previous period (October-December 2008). This increment is to be reduced to 409 yen by the special measure.

The reduced amount will be added to fuel cost adjustments in April 2009 to March 2010.
